The structure of the Basic Education in the Arts

Rauma Art School offers teaching for children and youth aged six through 18. As early childhood studies we arrange Leikkien kuvataiteeseen -courses. The actual art studies begin with general studies of the basic courses. After completing them, the students move forward to workshop studies. The basic courses are usually completed in order and by age groups. The workshops can be chosen in your own preference and completed in any order. The selection of workshops varies yearly.

The courses of the basic studies are designed so that for completing each of them, the student is awarded 60 hours of studying in a year. For completing the workshop studies, the student is awarded 100 hours of studying in a year (1 hour of studying = 45 minutes). The teaching groups meet once a week in the afternoon or in the evening. When the student has completed 500 hours of studying, they will receive a diploma, which will be of great advantage when applying for further education in the arts.

We started implementing a new curriculum in the school year 2018-2019. The current curriculum highlights the students' involvement and influence, sustainable lifestyle and cultural diversity. For a more detailed description of the curriculum, please visit www.rauma.fi/kuvataidekoulu.

Information on safety and studying

Listen to the teacher

It is important to carefully follow the teacher's instructions for both safety and learning.

RAUMAN KUVATAIDEKOULU

Facemasks According to the instructions given by the regional state administrative agency, students over the age of 12 use a facemask in the Art School premises. If there are younger students in the same teaching group, these students will also wear a mask.

Safety distance and minding others

We want to ensure a calm learning space for all of our students, so please keep the other students in mind. Please maintain a safety distance of 2 metres to others. Smartphones are stored in backpacks or “parked” in class so that everyone can focus on studying.

Stay home if you are sick

Stay home if you are feeling ill. The student must be completely healthy to attend the Art School lessons and they must not have any symptoms of illness, e.g. a sore throat or have a headache or a cough.

Clean after yourself

Especially during the pandemic, it is very important to remember to wash your hands using soap before and after the lesson. At the end of the lesson, clean and tidy the area you have been using: return the materials and clean tools to their places and store your artwork in a place indicated by the teacher. After that, help to tidy the classroom. If a student purposely loses or damages the Art School's tools or materials, they are obliged to compensate for the damage caused.

Be punctual

The teachers usually start the lessons by presenting the topic of the lesson and by giving technical instructions. Therefore, it is important to be on time. Please note that the teachers prepare for their lessons in class before the teaching starts. The teachers are responsible for their students only during the lessons, not before or after them.

Inform absences

The teaching is based on continuity. Often, the students work with one art piece for several lessons. Therefore, attending the lessons regularly is important for learning and progressing.

Dress appropriately

Please note that your clothing may get dirty from e.g. paints and inks. It may also be comfortable to wear separate shoes indoors. We advise you to wear some sort of shoes in class, because there may be e.g. clay or pieces of wood on the classroom floor. The Art School is not responsible for possible damage caused for the students' clothing.
